

ASTM D6886 with the Polyarc®

Same data quality without calibration standards

Can you imagine doing ASTM D6886 analysis in a single afternoon?

The ASTM D6886 standard method for quantifying VOCs in paints and coatings has been revised to include the Polyarc system as an option. This revision simplifies the analysis workflow by eliminating the need to run standards to determine experimental RRFs.

By the Numbers:

